Foreign policy

Dr. A. H. Krieg

While the multitudes remain ignorant of our national political dilemma, the McBama's seek their vote, all the while computer programs that will achieve the elite's desired election outcome have already determined the end result.

Global strategy:

The players:

America's national political dilemma is that American foreign policy is based upon working groups within the CFR (1), and a state department that lacks vision, and planning. Surely we can add TC (2) to this kettle as they also produce some policy documents. Another source of influence is the European Bilderberger Group (3) whose American impact is primarily indirect. While America has numerous other secretive organizations such as Bohemian Grove, Bones (The Order) and others the primary inputs in determining American foreign policy is the CFR. Their quarterly publication titled Foreign Affairs is the primary organ of announcing their and thus America's general foreign policy. The lack of planning is the social and political isolation of most Americans, the lack of a classic foreign service, and a political system consisting of primarily one party whose reelection rate exceeds 85%. The political system, which after all is said and done, does exert some influence on American external policy, is mired in a two party political structure whose two sides has the same basic policies. Into this mix comes AIPAC (4) whose massive political spending distorts American policy, particularly in the Middle East. Since the Middle East is the 21st century's primary foreign problem it behooves us to consider the impact of these groups upon policy.

The CFR has about 3,400 members. The leadership has in the past as well as the present been heavily influenced by Bonesmen (members of the Order) a Yale University based senior society that has since its founding in the 1830's exerted undue influence on the American political and jurisprudential scene. Leadership of the CFR has been in the hands of Bonesmen since its foundation in the 1920's. It is important to understand that Bones through leadership positions within scores of secret and semi-secret organizations including the Episcopalian Church wherein they hold many bishop positions, as well as banks and the media, set the agenda as well as the dialogue and thus are able to control the outcome.

To clarify this we take the example of William Buckley who recently passed away. He was touted to be a great conservative; he was not. Buckley's National Review was funded by the CIA (7) for years; he was a Bonesman, CFR member, and TC member, belonged to the Bilderbergers and frequently participated in the Bohemian Grove debauch. Things are not always what we think them to be certainly not when the media reports them.

The Trilateral Commission was the brainchild of Zbigniew Brzezinski, which he proposed to David Rockefeller at a meeting in Rockefeller's Westchester estate in 1972 when Rockefeller was chairman of the CFR. The idea was that there should be an organization with membership from Asia, Europe as well as America, thus Trilateral.

The Bilderbergers were established at the hotel de Bilderberger in the Dutch town of Oosterbeek in May of 1954. Prince Bernhard of Holland who had been involved with the Nazi SS during WWII is credited as the principal organizer. The Bilderbergers are credited with the Treaty of Rome that went on to institute the present EU.

AIPAC is the most powerful lobby in America far outpacing the NRA (5) due to their massive purse, and thousands of helpers. AIPAC is in accordance with American law illegal (6)

There can be no question but that there is a marionette master behind the scenes manipulating all the strings in unison. The relationship between the Zionists, Communists, Illuminati and Bones has been well established for many years. (8)

We see from the aforementioned paragraphs that there are a small number of organizations, both secretive as well as secret with a total membership of fewer than 8,000. who participate in the development of American foreign policy. Of these the leadership is less than 100 and they control the discourse and implementation of foreign policy.

Beginning to about 1985 a new group came to the forefront being pushed into their new leadership position by AIPAC. This new group called themselves the Neo-Cons. (New Conservatives) like everything else in this tale that title is a lie they are not new conservatives they are socialist Zionist agitators. The parents of these people were to a man the Tokyoites of the 20's who mostly resided in NYC on Rivington Street in lower Manhattan. With publications like Projects for a New American Century (9) and others many funded by the Israeli government and Zionist think tanks we can surmise that American foreign policy beginning in the first George W. Bush administration began being formulated in Jerusalem and by the Neo-Cons for the benefit of the Greater Israel concept (10) rather than the benefit of America.

How much foreign aid provided to Israel is returned to America in the form of political contributions to political campaigns is not known. It is however a reasonable assumption that a large portion of American foreign aid is channeled back to us through individual as well as third party contributions. Large amounts of political contributions do not have to be reported if they are small, and many others are put down as unknown origin contributions. In the 2008 campaign over 40% of the contributions origins remain undeclared.

Associations:

In order to understand formulation of American foreign policy it is necessary to gain insight into the many associations between the various organizations above mentioned. Often these links are tenuous to establish because the day-to-day operations of the organizations remains clouded in secrecy. There is however one means of testing relationships that are very difficult to hide. Only the Bilderbergers whose membership roster remains unpublished and many of whose members attend meetings incognito defy this effort. By examining the leadership of the separate organizations and then matching them with the others one can develop a list of sorts of the master puppeteers. We call these people the super mandarins. In my book The Satori and the New Mandarins (11) I listed Paul Arthur Allaire (Chairman Xerox) Graham Tillet Allison Jr. (CFR) Dwayne Orville Andreas (CEO ADM) Zbigniew

Brzezinski (Center for Strategic & International Studies) William Jefferson Clinton (at that time US president) among 24 others. The repeated underlying principle of this research indicates that a preponderance of the leadership within these organizations point to a commonality of membership in Illuminist organizations like Bones. The fact that both presidential aspirants in 2004 were Bonesmen did not escape most people's attention. And the fact that in 2008 similar relationships with aforementioned organizations exists with all the Republocrat candidates is also a known commodity.

It would appear by these facts that there are differing philosophic assumptions at work here. This however is not the case. The relationship between zionism, illumonism and communism is so closely interrelated as to make them appear identical. The communist theory that was plagiarized by Karl Marx in 1848 through his publication of Manifest der Kommunistischer Partei in London England published by Burghart was a copy of a document produced by Adam Weisshaupt the Bavarian founder of the Illuminist movement in 1787. The relationship between zionism and communism is proven by the fact that every communist party in the world from 1900 to 1980 was run by a Jew. Furthermore the entire Central Committee, quasi cabinet, and the Supreme Soviet were to a man Jews, with three exceptions of three men who were married to Jewish women.. (12)

Global Policy;

Any reasonable government trains and nurtures a select staff of diplomats that are conversant with the languages and customs of their intended postings so as to facilitate reasonable discourse, avoid misunderstanding, and nurture good relationships with the governments of these nations. In America most Ambassadors are appointed based on their financial contributions to the party in power. Not only is this stupid it often results in direct insults to nations with which we desire to have political, social and economic intercourse. Some of the dumbest efforts have been the appointment of an openly homosexual ambassador to Belgium, a secretary of state visiting the Middle East in a pantsuit, the appointment of a female ambassador to Italy.

I have met scores of diplomats and only American diplomats are single language ones. Almost all diplomats of civilized nations speak English, French and at least one other language. When I was in the military I was responsible to organize several social functions for the 7th army. On one occasion an American General (13) insisted on serving coca cola with dinner, it took me two hours to convince him that this would be a major social blunder that is exactly the type of people that the State Department sends overseas.

It is a reasonable assumption that a national external policy be so constructed as to benefit those nations political and social aspirations. American foreign policy can be seen to contradict that assumption, and in fact be so construed as to benefit not American external policy but Israeli external policy. This assumption can be concluded from a large number of documented polices of the U.S. State Department. Such polices would include, but not be restricted to, providing Israel the 16th per capita wealthiest nation in the world with the largest amount of foreign aid, providing Israel billions of dollars of military aid that is used almost exclusively in preemptive wars of aggression against its neighboring states as well as the illegal (14) occupation on the West Bank and Gaza that have a population of over three million. The wars against Iraq that were totally based on lies provided by the Mossad (15) in one case through the Italian and then British secret services. (16).

Foreign policy is also the result of domestic actions. The World Trade Center incidents that in the first bombing and then the air attacks on 9-11 have the smell of false flag operations. The 9-11 commission report is widely, by over half the population believed to be a repeat of the Kennedy assassination cover up, while the Pentagon and Pennsylvania occurrences are assumed to be total falsifications of what took place by over three fourths of the American people's. 9-11 has lead to drastic changes in American civil liberties resulting in more aggressive foreign policy and general population loss of rights. (17) The Patriot Act was instituted within days of the 9-11 tragedy, it had in fact been written over 12 months prior to the occurrence of 9-11. At the time of the Patriot Acts first airing several congressmen stated, "you won't get that passed unless there is a huge national emergency", it was provided!

An analysis of American foreign policy during the W. Bush administration leads to several conclusions.

- 1) American 21st century foreign policy does not benefit America.
- 2) American 21st century foreign policy is the product of zionists whose intent it is to benefit Israeli expansionist policies.
- 3) America's foreign policy is at least partially responsible for America's finacial collapse.
- 4) Internal as well as external American policy is purposely designed to attain goals benefiting Israel at the detriment of America.
- 5) Zionists who ardently support these policies control the American mass media.

In conclusion of these facts we can surmise that Jews including 30 congressmen and 15 senators, in America place Israel and Israeli policies before those of their home nation.

Results:

Our present 21st century foreign policy has been a disaster for our country. Take just one issue, the war against Iraq. By the end of 2008 this war will have cost our nation three trillion dollars that we can't afford. The war was based on lies from day one, through the desire of the Bush - Cheney gang to gain control of the world's second largest oilfields and Israel's expansionist plans of "Greater Israel". There were no weapons of mass destruction, no nuclear facilities, no ICBM's no CBM's, no chemical or bacteriological weapons, and no Yellow Cake importation. Bush, Cheney, and Powel lied to the UN, Congress the American people and the world. The recurring nightmare of Americans is why none of these liars are in jail?

One of the premises of our pro Israeli foreign policy is that according to the Zionist media Israel is a democracy and America's greatest ally in the Middle East. It should firstly be pointed out that prior to 1948 and the foundation of Israel by the Balfour declaration (18) we had no enemies in the Middle East. The Balfour Declaration took place just months after 1st Viscount Lord Marshall Allenby had already given the same lands to the Palestinians in perpetuity for their aid in defeating the WW1 Ottoman Turks who were allied with the Germans. It is also to be understood that Israel is a socialist theocracy that has no standing as a pluralistic democracy or a republic. Israeli laws are so racist that they could not even pass muster in third world nations.

Israel has a population of about 5 million of which a small minority are non-Jews. Islam on the other hand has a population of over 1.5 billion separated into scores of nations. Just based on those terms it would make sense to at minimum have an even-handed foreign policy for the Middle East.

The latest in a long list of Israeli plans is war against Iran. The American Zionists, AIPAC, and all the usual suspects have been beating the drums of war for the last twelve months. The American Zionist controlled media has been backing these plans, as has our State Department. The concept of a war against Iran reflects a total lack of understanding of geo-politics, geography, population, and history. Iran has not even proposed any external military ambitions in the last 500 years. Iran is three times the size of Iraq, has a population of over 65 million, is mountainous, borders the Gulf of Oman, The Persian Gulf, The Caspian sea, Iraq, Turkey, Russia, Afghanistan, Georgia, and Pakistan. A war with Iran would under any circumstances spill over into neighboring nations, especially Iraq, Pakistan, Afghanistan, and Georgia, possibly Syria that Israel has illegally attacked several times already.

Mad dog Cheney has suggested nuclear strikes against Iran, which would most certainly result in radiation problems from the outcome into Western Europe. Not one single source has confirmed or even suggested that Iran is in developmental stage of producing nuclear weapons, all we have heard is saber rattling from Israel, and Washington. Just as Iraq before this occurrence no hard evidence has been produced, and the UN atomic energy agency has repeatedly stated that no evidence exists, that Iran is pursuing a weapons program. In order to achieve the Zionist goal of "Greater Israel" they want Iran destabilized just as they have done to Lebanon, and tried to do in Syria, and Jordan. The most recent Israeli attack on Syria, where they claimed to have destroyed a nuclear facility is another lie. This would be the first nuclear facility with, no security, not even a fence, no water supply, no cooling tower, and no containment vessel, housed in a three story commercial building in the middle of a desert. Preposterous!

The endemic question is how did we get to this point? The retort is simple we replaced patriots in the service of America with academicians and college boys that have lost any understanding of what America is about. They have bought into the UN ambassadorial concept of placing groups and nations before individuals. They believe in governments not in people. They believe that the voluntary actions of the population should be impeded and governed by governments. They believe that governments and bankers should value fiat species, whose value they can inflate and deflate at will. They above all, believe that government exists to redistribute wealth from those who work hard to those who don't. They do not believe in individual liberty but in government coercion of its citizens. And lastly they do not believe that people are responsible for their own actions but that groups are the guiding principle of government largess. In other words they believe Adam Weishaupt's theorem that was plagiarized by Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels.
